Security

No. 2

The Freeman presents
a series of articles explaining the Social Security Act.

Washington, Nov. 17 (AP)—Looking to the payment of about $52,800,000 in federal pensions in 1942 and greatly increasing amounts thereafter, Congress imposed two new taxes under that section of the Social Security Act to take effect January 1.

One is an income tax on employees scheduled to benefit. The other is an excise tax on their employers. Both the tax returns and the payments will be on a monthly basis. The January assessment is due February 28. The employer must pay both taxes regularly to the collector of internal revenue in his district, just as he does income taxes. He is held personally liable for the wage as well as the payroll tax. The employee makes no return.

For example: When Mr. Ben, the grocer, pays off his clerk, Bertus Bolt, on Saturday night next year he must deduct one cent for every dollar in the envelope, match that amount himself and send the sum to the tax collector—subject to one limitation.

The limitation is that the tax on each applies only to the first $3,000 paid by an individual employer in one year. (This $3,000 a year limit also applies later in computation of the wages earned on which the pensions to be paid after 1941 will be based.)

If the taxable wages reach $3,000 in the first nine months, no tax need be paid in the last three months of the year.

Two Jobs

If a man gets $4,000 from one employer and $2,000 from another in one year, the taxes must be paid on all save $1,000 from the first and on the entire $2,000 from the second. And $5,000 will be entered on his "wage account" at the Social Security Board.

These taxes increase as follows:

	Percent
For 1937, 1938 and 1939	1
1940, 1941 and 1942	1½
1943, 1944 and 1945	2
1946, 1947 and 1948	2½
1949 and thereafter	3

If the clerk, Bolt, receives $2,500 in 1937, the tax on him and his employer will be $25 each. If he receives no raise meanwhile, it will be $75 each in 1949.

Since income taxes are not allowed as a deduction in computing subsequent income taxes Bolt can not deduct the wage tax on his return. His employer can deduct the payroll tax in computing his income for tax purposes.

Besides making the monthly tax returns, employers affected by the act like Mr. Ben must report regularly to the revenue collector on wages paid to whom.

Information Returns

Due next July 31, the first of these "information returns" must cover the six months from January through June. After that, four such reports must be made each year. Forms for these will be made available later.

Through these records the security board will keep up to date the accounts of wages paid to all workers. It is planned by this means, too, to keep track of the individuals. The worker has not been asked to report when he changes employment, but he can if he wishes.

The employer also is required to report for each of his employees who attain 65 or dies before then, within 15 days after the birthday, or date of death.

He must keep a record for each employee after next December 31 to show: His name and address, his security account number, his occupation, the amount and date of each pay envelope and the period covered thereby, how much of that pay was subject to tax and the amount withheld for taxes.

He can do this in his own way. No form will be prescribed. The records must go back at least four years, once 1941 is reached. The purpose is to enable revenue collectors to check up on whether the two taxes have been properly paid.

While not mandatory, employers are being advised to keep records of their own to show for whom they work, for how long and other information similar to that employers must have handy.

Arrangements are being made at the security board to furnish employers statements of their accounts at any time on request, once this biggest recording job in history is functioning.

The Hope on Shores

Bar Harbor, Conn., Nov. 17 (AP)—Police planned their hopes today of identifying a young woman, apparently an amateur victim, on the pair of expensive shoes she wore when found wandering about the streets here Sunday. Markings in the shoes had been scratched out, detectives reported, but sufficient numbers were obtained so that the shoes can be traced to the store that sold them.

Unsettled Arbitration

Washington, Nov. 17 (AP)—Harry Lundeberg, secretary of the Sailors' Union of the Pacific, telegraphed the United States conference of Mayors from San Francisco today the Union "can not arbitrate the fundamental principles" involved in the current maritime strike.

New York, Nov. 17 (AP)—The state social welfare commissioner, David C. Adie, announced today that no action will be taken on the application of followers of "Father" Divine for the establishment of a children's home at Saugerties, N. Y., until December 15.

Commissioner Adie said that recommendations of a special committee to investigate the Harlem cult followers' petition for the incorporation of "The Penitentiary Children's Home, Inc." would be made before the departmental board next month. Time was allowed for submission of briefs by New York city and upstate welfare agencies on present facilities for taking care of negro and white children that otherwise might be cared for by the home and by the "board of directors" of the proposed home regarding personnel and staff.

FATHER BURNS AND SERVANT
ARRIVE AT LITUAOKU

Tokyo, Nov. 17 (AP)—Rescued from bandit kidnappers, the Rev. Father Clarence Joseph Burns, American priest, and his Chinese servant Wu arrived today at Lituaokou police station, three miles southwest of Auntying.

They were reported convalescing from their long captivity, in the care of Japanese Manchoukuo troops.

Father Burns was kidnapped last February 5 by Chinese renegades who held him atop an inaccessible mountain in southeastern Manchoukuo. They had demanded $5,000,000 Chinese dollars for his release.

He is associated with the Maryknoll Mission at Ossining, New York.

First Joint Discussion Between Key Forces
Follows Arbitration Appeal of Nine Mayors

San Francisco, Nov. 17 (AP)—Resumption of joint discussions between key forces in the Pacific coast's general maritime strike revived peace hopes here today despite denial of concessions by either side.

The joint conference, first between the opposing groups since the walk-out of 27,000 seagoing and dock workers nearly three weeks ago, came after an arbitration appeal from since east and west coast seaport mayors.

Neither side commented on the announcement by President Roosevelt to the mayors in Washington that he was leaving for Buenos Aires and that between the strike and possible efforts of his trip on world peace he considered "the peace of the world is the more important of the two."

Legal action against steamship companies was arrested upon today by 24 foreign strikebound in Hawaii where 700 travelers and 300 seamen were stranded by the strike. The 24 voted unanimously to sue for "adequate compensation" for failure of the lines to carry them to their destinations.

No Surrender

Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward E. McGrady, who arranged the joint discussions here, said "neither side had receded from the original positions."

Father Major J. Divine, Harley negro leader, did not attend the hearing Monday afternoon before a committee appointed by State Commissioner of Social Welfare David C. Adie to hear interested parties in relation to the establishment of a home for negro children in Ulster county. However his attorney, Arthur Madison, a negro lawyer, appeared in behalf of the incorporators at the hearing which was held in the State Building, Center street, New York.

There were about 50 people present and in the group were several Ulster county residents who entered a protest to the plan. Assistant District Attorney N. LeVan Haver who appeared in behalf of County Judge Frederick G. Traver and also for the district attorney's office, Commissioner of Public Welfare Robert Park, E. E. Elmore who represented the New Palis Chamber of Commerce, and several welfare groups were also represented. All of the above mentioned appeared in opposition to the plan, including the welfare groups.

The proceeding passed off quietly with one exception. That was when Mr. Madison became irritated over a question which was put by Mr. Park and which he evaded until later in the hearing when Assistant District Attorney Haver insisted that the matter be cleared up.

None of His Business

Park asked Mr. Madison whether he was a member of the Divine cult and the negro lawyer evaded the issue but later when Mr. Haver insisted that the question be answered Mr. Madison replied:

"That is none of your business," but when the commission asked whether Mr. Haver insisted on the answer as being important to the question and Haver insisted that the question was a fair one and an important one, Madison conceded that the Harlem evangelist's followers were behind the movement and he

Attempted Murder
Cases of Two Head
Criminal Calender

Cases Against William Orr and Floyd Weeks Will Be Called Wednesday—Orr to Get Mental Examination.

Two important criminal matters will come up for attention Wednesday afternoon before County Judge Frederick G. Traver. One is the case of William Orr, charged by indictment with rape, first degree; burglary, second degree, intent to commit murder, first degree, and assault, first degree. Orr is charged entered the home of Mrs. Clara Norton Reed last June 10 and attacked her. He was arrested in the cellar of the house by the Kingston police after the disturbance had attracted attention of neighbors.

Orr at the time was held to await action of the grand jury when arraigned in city court and has since been in jail, unable to procure bail. During the early stages of his case he claimed that Chris J. Flanagan appeared for him but Mr. Flanagan declined to serve. Last week Judge Traver assigned Roger H. Loughran to the case when Orr was unable to hire an attorney. There has been one mental examination of Orr on the part of The People but on Monday when Orr's case was called Mr. Loughran presented an application to the court requesting that an examination be made at this time to determine the mental status of the defendant.

Second Examination

District Attorney Glen B. Murray stated that while he had already had an examination made he would not object to another examination, provided the examination was made immediately so as not to delay the matter. He suggested that the examination be held today.

Judge Traver stated that he desired to have highly qualified men make this second examination and named Dr. Leo Palmer, superintendent of the Walkhill Medium Security Prison, and Dr. Harrington of the Napanoch Institution for Male Mental Delinquents, as both men have had wide experience and are eminent-ly qualified. The court directed also that if the defendant desired he might also have one physician of his own selection to be present at the examination. The case will be called Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The second important case which will come up Wednesday is the case of the People vs. Floyd Weeks. Weeks is charged with attempting to murder his uncle about a year ago by putting strychnine in a bottle of liquor which was left where the uncle might find it. There is also an assault charge. The elderly man was taken violently ill after drinking from the bottle and was taken to the Kingston Hospital for treatment.

There he died from pneumonia. Later state troopers found a small bottle in which strychnine had been. Weeks was charged with the crime and spent some time in jail and then secured bail. The late Frank W. Brooks represented him and the matter was adjourned because of the illness of Mr. Brooks. On the death of Mr. Brooks Weeks was committed to secure counsel and be in court Monday afternoon with his counsel.

Monday afternoon Thomas J. Frankfort appeared for Weeks and stated that he would be ready to go to trial on Wednesday afternoon. Weeks lives in the town of Ulster just beyond the city limits of Albany avenue.

Floods Caution

Louis Sturges of West Haven appeared when his case, the first on the criminal calendar, was called. Herman Katz appeared for Sturges and said that the defendant desired to change his former plea of not guilty to one of guilty to the charge of carrying a dangerous weapon. Sturges entered that plea and he will be sentenced Wednesday afternoon at 10 o'clock.

10 Days' End

The strike has been under way 10 days. Monday afternoon the "Cory" Department in 1st St. S. Street transported bring supplies to Hawaii. The government has appealed to strikers to "hold on" to the strike. The strikers have refused to do so. The government has appealed to strikers to "hold on" to the strike. 95 Per Cent of Taxes for 1936 Are Paid, Reports
Boice to Supervisors

Annual Report of the County Treasurer Shows $278,415.52 on Hand to Meet the Current Expenses.

OTHER MATTERS

Board of Supervisors Hears Other Official Business of County Departments.

The annual report of County Treasurer Pratt Boice was received by the Ulster County Board of Supervisors at a session Monday evening. The report showed that there is on hand as of November 1, 1936, the sum of $278,415.52 to meet current county expenses until the 1937 tax levy is made. This amount is approximately the same as last year.

Another encouraging thing which Mr. Boice reported was the fact that practically 95 per cent of the taxes due this year in the county have been paid. The county has no bonded indebtedness and no outstanding temporary certificates of indebtedness.

In June the tax collectors of the county returned to the county treasurer a total of $280,758.78 in uncollected taxes and since that date there has been collected an additional $202,084.43 of the taxes returned uncollected by the tax collectors leaving but $78,674.34 of the present year's tax levy unpaid. This is less than 5 per cent of the total levy of $1,570,830.19 which was the 1936 tax levy for all purposes in the county.

On November 1, 1935, there was a balance of $282,614.23 and the total amount received from all sources was $2,949,852.63. The total disbursements for all purposes during the past fiscal year in the county was $2,954,352.62, leaving a balance on November 1, 1936 of $278,415.52 or slightly less than $5,000 under the balance of last year at the same time. The report was received and filed.

Herd Association

A report was made by the Ulster County Accredited Herd Co-operative Association, Inc., on the work done for the eradication of bovine tuberculosis. Last year the appropriation was $2,500 and the reports stated that there was a balance of $351.91 in the fund and therefore a request was made for an appropriation of $2,100 for the ensuing year. Referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

A report was made on the distribution of grand jurors in the towns and wards of the city. This is based on population and gives the county 200 grand jurors. The allocation to wards and towns is as follows:

Engineer Ferguson Badly Burned in Locomotive Blast

Hudson, Nov. 17 (AP)—Engineer Charles Ferguson bore severe burns today as the price of his heroism in fighting through a blazing locomotive cab to stop a fast passenger train after a mysterious blast hurled him into the coal pit of the tender.

Ferguson drove the New York Central's train—"The Knickerbocker"—through Hudson yards on schedule last night.

Suddenly there was an explosion and flames licked from the firebox to envelop the cab. The engineer and fireman James E. Peterson of Poughkeepsie were catapulted from their seats and the train rolled on.

Momentarily stunned, Ferguson recovered and crept forward through the fire to the throttle. He applied the airbrakes. The long line of cars screeched to a stop after rolling several hundred yards unguided.

None of the passengers was aware of the accident, and the train proceeded a few minutes later with an emergency engine and crew.

"Something blew out, I don't know what," Ferguson's wife quoted him as saying.

Burned About Face

He is badly burned about the head and face and is unable to talk about it," she said.

Peterson, taken to a Poughkeepsie hospital after emergency treatment, suffered a concussion besides neck and head burns.

Joseph D. Carhuff, trainmaster of the Hudson division of the New York Central, said the engine was being examined to ascertain, if possible, the nature of the explosion.

Loath to talk about the explosion, Ferguson later mumbled through his bandages that "it was no bark-drafts don't act like that."

Scourge of War Rends Asunder University City, on the Outskirts of Madrid, as Troops Surge Against One Another.

CAPITAL SHAKES

Madrid Shaken by Tremors Caused by Bombs and Huge Shells; Civilians Live Underground.

Madrid, Nov. 17 (AP)—Fascist attackers and the government defenders of Madrid threw the full strength of their air force, tank corps, and artillery into a ferocious battle for the possession of the capital today.

Four months old tomorrow, the Spanish civil war appeared in its decisive stage.

The thunder of artillery boomed over louder and the chatter of machine gun fire filled the center of the city as the government militiamen, whipped to a feverish rage, hurled themselves against insurgent armies filtering across the Manzanares river and into Madrid proper.

They turned close range artillery fire on the Moors and foreign legionnaires who held doggedly to their battle-won positions in University City, inside the northwestern limits of Madrid.

In successive waves, Fascist fighting planes dived over the center of the capital, spilling bombs and killing and wounding an unestimated number of persons.

Campus a No Man's Land

University City, once called the most up-to-date scholastic group in Europe, was the bloodiest battlefield.

Its buildings, many of which just had been completed, became improvised fortresses, its campus a No Man's Land.

At frequent intervals, the thunderous roar of high explosives shook the capital's "loopy" section.

Windows fell with a clatter into the streets. Civilians huddled in cellars and subway stations.

During the second raid a bomb burst a few feet from the famous Prado Gallery, tearing a 30-foot hole in the pavement and breaking the windows of the edifice.

Persons walking in Hortaleza street, in the center of Madrid, were sprayed with shrapnel.

Commanders directing the city edge battle expressed confidence their new lines would hold. They urged the city to remain calm and assured civilians the Fascists soon would be forced out of run-gang.

(An authoritative source in London said it had learned the Spanish government was planning a fierce counter-attack south and southwest of the capital with 70,000 troops, hoping to cut off the insurgent rear guard.)

Many Killed, Wounded.

Red Cross officials said an undetermined number of persons were killed and many wounded in the renewal of Fascist air attacks on the capital.

Socialist and Fascist troops engaged in bitter warfare in the University city district amid heavy artillery fire from both sides.

One artillery shell fell through a six-story house in Luna street landing in the basement where a dozen occupants were huddled together. It failed to explode, however.

The French embassy was understood to be considering a protest against the bombing of residences in Villar street, a few yards from the embassy, during night raids last night.

Government commanders ordered their forces to counterattack insurgents lodge in the British-American nursing home, half a mile from northwestern Cuatro Caminos Square.

The Socialist drive, defense officers said, was aimed at blocking the Fascist campaign to gain complete control of the Cuatro Caminos (Four Streets) and University City districts. The attack threatened to become a house-to-house fight, they acknowledged.

(The insurgents were reported to have occupied the school of philosophy building on the edge of the University City and to have established positions along Rosales Boulevard near the Parque Del Oeste.)

Opposing troops showed the battle zones with rifle and machine gun slugs. Fire started by the night sky attacks blazed through the area.

Sixty Madrilenos were killed, 170 others injured and more than 50 houses fired during the air raids by Fascist planes last night, officials estimated.

Defense authorities, declaring the Fascist bombardment was making the world gasp with its "warrior savagery," announced refugees from Aragon had reported the killing of 350 government supporters in a "mass execution" by Fascists.

Roosevelt, Eyes on World Peace, Hopes Strike
Of Maritime Workers Will Adjust Itself

Washington, Nov. 17 (AP)—Hoping any idea that he would remain here to intervene in the maritime strike, President Roosevelt will leave tonight to participate in the opening December 1 at Buenos Aires of the conference.

He called to hulk anti-war ideals and economic relations among the 21 American republics.

A definite decision to lengthen his long-planned post-election vacation cruise into the 12,000 mile round-trip to the Argentine capital was made by the Chief Executive last night.

At the same time he accepted invitations to land for official visits in Brazil and Uruguay on a voyage that will be made in record time on the speedy cruiser Indianapolis.

He will embark tomorrow morning at Charleston, S. C., and will be away from Washington a month.

White House officials said that in making up his mind to go to Buenos Aires, Mr. Roosevelt considered the wishes of Latin-American officials as well as leaders in the United States who felt a personal visit would further his "good neighbor" policy.

The President himself has expressed expectations that the conference will give renewed hope and courage to the war-weary peoples of the world by demonstrating to them that the source of armed conflict can and will be eliminated from the Western Hemisphere.

Peace of World More Vital

In greeting a group of mayors at the White House yesterday, he displayed any idea that he would remain here to intervene in the maritime strike. He said:

"As between this particular strike and whatever effect my visit to South America may have on the peace of the world, the peace of the world is the more important of the two."

"I hope the strike will recognize that fact and come together."

Before leaving by special train to assist for the south, the president will complete the main work on the 1937-38 federal budget.

He is expected to give consideration on route to his legislative and budget messages to congress and, if opportunity arises, to do a little talking.

He will embark shortly after breakfast tomorrow, and with the heavy cruiser Chester acting as escort, go first to the island of Trinidad. Several hours will be spent there Saturday, while the ship sails toward the Argentine capital.

With the naval vessels accompanying around 25 boats, Rio de Janeiro will be reached November 27. There the president will depart for a full day ashore as the guest of President Getulio Vargas and the Brazilian government.

Reception is Planned.

Buenos Aires, Nov. 17 (AP)—President Agustin P. Justo of Argentina welcomed government officials to a conference today to plan a military

Attempted Murder Cases of Two Head Criminal Calender

Cases Against William Orr and Floyd Weeks Will Be Called Wednesday—Orr to Get Mental Examination.

Two important criminal matters will come up for attention Wednesday afternoon before County Judge Frederick G. Traver. One is the case of William Orr, charged by indictment with rape, first degree, burglary, second degree, intent to commit murder, first degree, and assault, first degree. There has been one mental examination of Orr on the part of The People but on Monday when Orr's case was called Mr. Loughran presented an application to the court requesting that an examination be made at this time to determine the mental status of the defendant.

Second Examination
District Attorney Cleon B. Murray stated that while he had already had an examination made he would not object to another examination provided the examination was made immediately so as not to delay the matter. He suggested that the examination be held today.

Judge Traver stated that he desired to have highly qualified men make this second examination and named Dr. Leo Palmer, superintendent of the Walkhill Medium Security Prison, and Dr. Harrington of the Japanese Institution for Male Mental Delinquents, as both men have had wide experience and are eminently qualified. The court directed also that if the defendant desired he might also have one physician of his own selection to be present at the examination. The case will be called Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The second important case which will come up Wednesday is the case of the People vs. Floyd Weeks. Weeks is charged with attempting to murder his uncle about a year ago by putting strychnine in a bottle of liquor which was left where the uncle might find it. There is also an assault charge. The elderly man was taken violently ill after drinking from the bottle and was taken to the Kingston Hospital for treatment.

There he died from pneumonia. Later state troopers found a small bottle in which strychnine had been. Weeks was charged with the crime and spent some time in jail and then secured bail.

The late Frank W. Brooks represented him and the matter was adjourned because of the illness of Mr. Brooks. On the death of Mr. Brooks Weeks was notified to secure counsel and he is in court Monday afternoon with his counsel.

Monday afternoon Thomas J. Frankfort appeared for Weeks and stated that he would be ready to go to trial on Wednesday afternoon. Weeks lives in the town of Ulster just beyond the city limits of Albany.

Plunder Gully
Louis Stuckles of West Stokan appeared when his case, the first on the criminal calendar, was called. Herman Kate appeared for Stuckles and said that the defendant desired to change his former plea of not guilty to one of guilty to the charge of carrying a dangerous weapon.

Stuckles entered that plea and he will be sentenced Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

95 Per Cent of Taxes for 1936 Are Paid, Reports Boice to Supervisors

Annual Report of the County Treasurer Shows $278,415.52 on Hand to Meet the Current Expenses.

Board of Supervisors Hears Other Official Business of County Departments.

The annual report of County Treasurer Pratt Boice was received by the Ulster County Board of Supervisors at a session Monday evening. The report showed that there is on hand as of November 1, 1936, the sum of $278,415.52 to meet current county expenses until the 1937 tax levy is made. This amount is approximately the same as last year.

Another encouraging thing which Mr. Boice reported was the fact that practically 95 per cent of the taxes due this year in the county have been paid. The county has no bonded indebtedness and no outstanding temporary certificates of indebtedness.

June the tax collectors of the county returned to the county treasurer a total of $280,758.78 in uncollected taxes and since that date there has been collected an additional $202,084.43 of the taxes returned uncollected by the tax collectors leaving but $78,674.34 of the present year's tax levy unpaid. This is less than 5 per cent of the total levy of $1,570,830.19 which was the 1936 tax levy for all purposes in the county.

On November 1, 1935, there was a balance of $282,614.23 and the total amount received from all sources was $2,949,852.63. The total disbursements for all purposes during the past fiscal year in the county was $2,954,552.62, leaving a balance on November 1, 1936 of $278,415.52 or slightly less than $5,000 under the balance of last year at the same time. The report was received and filed.

Herd Association
A report was made by the Ulster County Accredited Herd Co-operative Association, Inc. on the work done for the eradication of bovine tuberculosis. Last year the appropriation was $2,500 and the reports stated that there was a balance of $331.91 in the fund and therefore a request was made for an appropriation of $2,168 for the ensuing year. Referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

A report was made on the distribution of grand jurors in the towns and wards of the city. This is based on population and gives the county 300 grand jurors. The allocation is as follows:

Reds, Rebels Throw Full Forces Into Battle Today

Plunges To Death

Engineer Ferguson Badly Burned in Locomotive Blast

Hudson, Nov. 17 (AP)—Engineer Charles Ferguson bore severe burns today as the price of his heroism in fighting through a blazing locomotive cab to stop a fast passenger train after a mysterious blast hurled him into the coal pit of the tender.

Ferguson drove the New York Central's train — 'The Knickerbocker' — through Hudson yards on schedule last night.

Suddenly there was an explosion and flames licked from the firebox to envelop the cab. The engineer and fireman James E. Peterson of Poughkeepsie were catapulted from their seats and the train rolled on.

Momentarily stunned, Ferguson recovered and crept forward through the fire to the throttle. He applied the airbrakes. The long line of cars screeched to a stop after rolling several hundred yards unguided.

None of the passengers was aware of the accident, and the train proceeded a few minutes later with an emergency engine and crew.

"Something blew out, I don't know what," Ferguson's wife quoted him as saying.

Burned About Face
"He is badly burned about the head and face and is unable to talk about it," she said.

Peterson, taken to a Poughkeepsie hospital after emergency treatment, suffered a concussion besides neck and head burns.

Joseph D. Carkhuff, trainmaster of the Hudson division of the New York Central, said the engine was being examined to ascertain, if possible, the nature of the explosion.

Loath to talk about the explosion, Ferguson later mumbled through his bandages that "it was no backdraft."

"Backdrafts don't act like that," he said.

He will embark tomorrow morning on a special train to New York City and will be taken to the hospital for treatment.

Before leaving by special train tonight for the south, the president will complete the main work on the 1937-38 federal budget.

He is expected to give considerable thought to his legislative and budget messages to congress and, if opportunity arises, to do a little fishing.

He will embark shortly after breakfast tomorrow, and with the heavy cruiser Chester acting as escort, to first to the island of Trinidad.

White House officials said that in making up his mind to go to Buenos Aires, Mr. Roosevelt considered the urgency of Latin-American affairs, as well as advisers in the United States who felt a personal visit would further his "good neighbor" policy.

The president himself has expressed expectations that the conference will give renewed hope and courage to the war-weary peoples of the world by demonstrating to them that the source of armed conflict can and will be eliminated from the Western Hemisphere.

Scourge of War Rends Asunder University City, on the Outskirts of Madrid, as Troops Surge Against One Another.

CAPITAL SHAKES

Madrid Shaken by Tremors Caused by Bombs and Huge Shells; Civilians Live Underground.

Madrid, Nov. 17 (AP)—Fascist attackers and the government defenders of Madrid threw the full strength of their air force, tank corps, and artillery into a ferocious battle for the possession of the capital today.

Four months old tomorrow, the Spanish civil war appeared in its decisive stage.

The thunder of artillery boomed ever louder and the chatter of machine gun fire filled the center of the city as the government militiamen, whipped to a feverish rage, hurled themselves against insurgent armies filtering across the Manzanares river and into Madrid proper.

They turned close range artillery fire on the Moors and foreign legionnaires who held doggedly to their battle-worn positions in University City, inside the northwestern limits of Madrid.

In successive waves, Fascist fighting planes dived over the center of the capital, spilling bombs and killing and wounding an unestimated number of persons.

Campus a No Man's Land
University City, once called the most up-to-date scholastic group in Europe, was the bloodiest battlefield.

Its buildings, many of which just had been completed, became improvised fortresses, its campus a No Man's Land.

At frequent intervals, the thunderous roar of high explosives shook the capital's "loop" section.

Windows fell with a clatter into the streets. Civilians huddled in cellars and subway stations.

During the second raid a bomb burst a few feet from the famous Prado Gallery, tearing a 30-foot hole in the pavement and breaking the windows of the edifice.

Persons walking in Hortaleza street, in the center of Madrid, were sprayed with shrapnel.

Commanders directing the city edge battle expressed confidence their new lines would hold. They urged the city to remain calm and assured civilians the Fascists soon would be forced out of gun-range.

An authoritative source in London said it had learned the Spanish government was planning a fierce counter-attack south and southwest of the capital with 70,000 troops, hoping to cut off the insurgent rear guard.

Many Killed, Wounded.
Red Cross officials said an undetermined number of persons were killed and many wounded in the renewal of Fascist air attacks on the capital.

Socialist and Fascist troops engaged in bitter warfare in the University city district amid heavy artillery fire from both sides.

Fascist troops were reported to have captured one University building and to have established strong positions along Rosales Boulevard in the northwestern section.

One artillery shell fell through a six-story house in Luna street landing in the basement where a dozen occupants were huddled together. It failed to explode, however.

The French embassy was understood to be considering a protest against the bombing of residences in Villar street, a few yards from the embassy, during night raids last night.

Government commanders ordered their forces to counterattack insurgent lodges in the British-American nursing home, half a mile from northwestern Cuatro Caminos Square.

The Socialist drive, defense officers said, was aimed at blocking the Fascist campaign to gain complete control of the Cuatro Caminos (Four Streets) and University City districts. The stage threatened to become a house-to-house fight, they acknowledged.

(The insurgents were reported to have occupied the school of philosophy building on the edge of University City and to have established positions along Rosales Boulevard near the Parque Del Oeste.)

Opposing troops exchanged the late hours with rifle and machine gun sniping. Fires started by the night sky attacks blazed through the area.

Sixty Madrilenos were killed, 50 others injured and more than 150 houses fired during the air raids, Fascist planes last night, officials estimated.

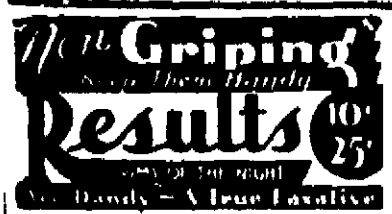

Defense authorities, declaring the Fascist bombardment was making the world gasp with its "wanton savagery," announced refugees from Aragon had reported the killing of 350 government supporters in a "mass execution" by Fascists.

Tells About Help Farm Youth Needs

Houston, Texas, Nov. 17.—Plans to assist rural youth should include guidance and education in fields other than agriculture and homemaking, since only about one-half of the farm boys and girls will engage in full-time farming for themselves, according to L. R. Simons, director of extension at the New York state colleges of agriculture and home economics. He suggested the following activities as being of interest to rural boys and girls out of school.

Systematic vocational and technical instruction in agriculture for young men on farms, organized sports both for boys and girls, social events, forum discussions under competent leadership, special trade courses with local teachers and skilled craftsmen, building an organization for those too old to carry on as future farmers or as 4-H club workers, special courses in all kinds of home craft and homemaking for young women.

In the United States, reasonably adequate educational opportunities have been provided in rural areas for the younger boys and girls and the older men and women. Director Simons said a middle group one between the group of public school age and the group composed of individuals who are earning a living for themselves has never been successfully reached by any educational agency.

250 Attend Red Men's Organization

About 250 members and guests of the newly organized Tribe of the Improved Order of Red Men, known as Wiltwyck Tribe No. 547, gathered at Byrne Bros. hall, Broadway, Monday night for the official institution of the tribe and installation of elective officers.

Among guests, in addition to prominent state chiefs of the order, were representatives from the tribes in Esopus, Ellenville, Poughkeepsie, Middletown, Newburgh, Beacon and Stony Point.

Joseph Zoetzel, grand sachem, instituted the tribe and installed the officers. He was assisted by Edward Robinson, of Beacon, great junior sagamore, and Frank Dumoulin of Stony Point, great sannah. Guy Vinton of Rochester, great chief of records, was also present. The degree was conferred by the team from Stony Point Tribe.

The grand sachem and the grand chief of records gave pleasing addresses and predicted a successful future and a fine growth for the tribe. Others of the visiting Red Men were also called upon and spoke briefly. An honored guest of the evening was Harvey Decker of Minnewaska Tribe of Kingston, who is said to be the oldest Red Man in point of service in the Hudson Valley, having been a member of the order for 54 years.

After Grand Sachem Zoetzel had given the instituting ritual and installed the elected officers, a fine luncheon was served to all the guests present by a committee consisting of Mrs. Harley Palen, Mrs. David Doughty, Mrs. David Smith, Mrs. Pearl Winne, Shirley Palen, Mrs. Wilfred Palen, Mrs. Christian Janzen.

Following are the officers of the new tribe: Earl Shufeldt, prophet; David Doughty, sachem; John Ackers, senior sagamore; Edward Hofbauer, junior sagamore; Wilfred Palen, first sannah; Leighton Winchell, second sannah; George Deyo, guard of the wigwag; Alpha Smith, guard of the forest; David Smith, chief of records; George Purdy, collector of wampum; Winfield Lynn, keeper of wampum; Trustees: Christian Janzen, Orville Palen and LeRoy Vogt; Warriors: Elmer S. Palen, Abram Smith, Donald Barley and Robert McGraft; Braves: Edward Conlon, James Saunders, Chester Deyo and Harold Williams.

The appointive officers will be installed at a meeting to be held next week Wednesday.

Following the adjournment of the meeting at Byrne Bros. hall the elective officers and visiting grand chiefs were delightfully entertained at a fine dinner served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Palen on Miller's Lane, which had been beautifully decorated for the occasion.

Checker Expert Amazes Locals

The amazing memory of William Ryan, popularly known as the "Bronx Comet," and the brilliant skill displayed in the checker exhibition at the Kingston Y. M. C. A. last evening, is still being discussed by those who witnessed the event.

In the star performance of the evening, Mr. Ryan blindfolded played and won matches from Howard Schwenk, Dr. John Gifford, John Kelley, Howard Emerick, Clarence Burgher and James Brophy. The audience was thrilled to see the many plays which he made during this part of the tournament, tying up his opponents when it looked to the amateur that the game was about won. Mr. Ryan in some cases coming back to a certain board in his memory would trace the moves which had been made up to this play.

Mr. Ryan was introduced to the checker enthusiasts by General Secretary Robert L. Simon, who has witnessed his performances for four or five years against some of the best players of the Hudson valley. "There is a great deal of depth in checker playing, and each move tells a story about your personality to good checker playing," said William H. Ryan as he showed some of the problems which are given checker players to work out. He who is a good checker player is one who is analytical and practical.

All who attended were won over by the genial personality of Mr. Ryan and helpful spirit which he displays as he coaches players in some of the ways of meeting difficult playing situations.

As the final event of the evening he played the following 10 players, who were unable to get a draw game despite their fine exhibition of skill: H. Friedman, Clarence Dunn, Nelson Fuller, H. D. Robbins, Clarence Burgher, Arthur Houghtaling, Herbert Lamber and James Brophy.

Two of the players came 60 miles, showing the intense interest that there is in this game.

POLITICS at Random

By SYDNEY PRICE
Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington

THE almost unbelievable dimensions of Mr. Roosevelt's election victory raise one extremely vital question: Has the American electoral process, regarded for generations as a guarantee of democracy, suddenly created a one-man government at Washington?

Certainly there are arguments to support such a thesis. The President himself was, in far more than the ordinary sense, the issue of the campaign. His policies, running so directly toward concentration of power, were well known to the people. And the answer was an almost unanimous electoral college, and a congress in which only a corporal's guard of the opposition party survives.

More than that, the candidate had openly expressed his opposition to the logic of important decisions of the supreme court. He had openly asked for the passage of legislation, regardless of doubts of its constitutionality. And his fellow-citizens re-elected him by the biggest popular plurality in history.

Not All New Dealers
LOOKING at these facts, as they stand unembellished and unqualified, it is easy to conclude that the people have given Mr. Roosevelt a mandate to rule, and that he will proceed to carry that mandate into effect with vigor.

This may be, indeed, the correct conclusion. Yet there are certain qualifying circumstances, which really should be noted carefully.

One is the circumstance that party labels do not mean what they once meant. The new congress will be overwhelmingly Democratic in the sense that the vast majority were elected on the Democratic ticket. But it will be much less overwhelmingly New Deal.

Even under ordinary conditions, it would be remarkable if one man could dominate a party made up of such numbers, and including such varying types of opinion. A generation ago, when the Republicans began to have great congressional majorities, it split into groups and blocs. The natural supposition would be that any other party so situated would do the same.

The conditions are not, furthermore, ordinary. Some of the most influential members of congress, within the Democratic party, have been openly against most of the New Deal. They supported Mr. Roosevelt for re-election with the specific reservation that they would oppose henceforth those policies with which they disagreed.

Possibly the devastating character of the 1936 majorities may convince them that they must go along. The general character of these men themselves, however, argues strongly to the contrary. The balance of proof is indicative of far more trouble on Capitol Hill than the election returns remotely hint.

Congress May Turn

THE expectation that congressional lines will stiffen is upheld by two additional circumstances. One is that Mr. Roosevelt now is in his second term, not his first. The other is that the emergency which led to creation of the New Deal appears to be passing.

A President who faces a re-election campaign, and who is certain to head the ticket again, has a strong leverage over members of his party in congress. They know they must themselves run on that ticket, and they do not want to be out of step. But when they do not know who the next Presidential nominee will be, they begin to look out for themselves. That is human nature.

Similarly, emergencies increase a President's hold on congress, a return toward normal weakens it. During the great war President Wilson was vested with many of the powers of a dictator. Congress not only stripped them from him, but turned definitely against him when peace came. Can't this happen also in Mr. Roosevelt?

A great deal more might be said on both sides. The thoughtful will reach no hasty conclusions, either way.

Christmas Cheer Committee Met to Organize for Work

The Christmas Cheer Committee, of which Mrs. Thomas H. Edmonston has been appointed chairman by Mayor C. J. Heiselman, met this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the mayor's office in the city hall to organize.

Many of those who were active on the committee last year are expected to serve again this year.

The committee will have charge of the work of establishing a work shop for Santa Claus where old toys will be made as good as new, and will also have charge of the distribution of the gifts to children who might otherwise have been overlooked in the Christmas rush.

Last season the committee distributed toys and good things to about 1,500 children of the city.

Treasury Policy Watch and Wait

Washington, Nov. 17 (UP).—Unless some unforeseen development occurs, Treasury officials indicated today they will follow a "watch and wait" policy toward heavy foreign investment in the United States.

Following Secretary Morgenthau's statement late yesterday that "We have all the tools necessary" to prevent fluctuation of the dollar, officials said that no move to control foreign investment here by legislation would be considered until a detailed study of possible effects of these investments was made.

It is quite possible, they said, that the operation of natural economic factors may result in the gradual withdrawal of some of these funds, automatically eliminating the question as to whether they constitute a threat to domestic economy.

Lions President Pleads for Morals

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 17 (UP).—Edward R. Kingsley, president of Lions International, rallied the world-wide organization to a campaign of moral improvement today.

Addressing the Buffalo Lions Club last night, he called upon all Lions to aid in restoring family life to its former prominence, to repair the influence of the church and to improve the morality of the younger generation.

"No amount of intellectual training can make up for the lack of moral training," Kingsley, a resident of Parkersburg, W. Va., declared. "A polished mind without character is more of a menace to the world than anything else."

RECEPTION TO RECTOR HELD LAST SUNDAY

On Sunday afternoon following the Choral Evensong at St. John's Episcopal Church, the Vestry of the Church extended an informal reception to the Rev. and Mrs. W. Poyntell Kemper and to the Rev. and Mrs. Maurice W. Vengno. The reception which was attended by a large number of the parishioners of the church was in the nature of a God-speed to Mr. and Mrs. Kemper who left town on Monday due to the ill health of Mr. Kemper and of a welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Vengno who are now in residence at the rectory, 19 Green street. The Rev. Mr. Vengno having been chosen assistant rector of the parish. Mr. and Mrs. Kemper will spend some time at Mrs. Kemper's home, Hirdshoro, Penn., and later will visit Mr. Kemper's sister in Florida. They have not only the best wishes for the parish but of the parishioners of the church taken up his duties as assistant rector.

CHRISTMAS CLUBS

Three hundred and fifty-five million dollars will be distributed to about seven and a half million Christmas Club members by approximately 5,500 banking institutions and organizations within the next two weeks, according to an estimate made by H. F. Rawlin, founder and president of Christmas Club, a corporation. The estimated average amount for each member is $46.50.
 The estimate is based upon a substantial number of reports from institutions operating the Christmas Club plan in different sections of the country.

These banks report, on an average, a 14 per cent increase in total accumulations over 1935. These figures indicate the widespread savings for funds to carry out the Christmas shopping. The great value in saving in order to be able to bring added cheer into the home at Christmas time is attracting more people each year. Voluntary saving in small sums for specific purposes is an ideal medium that generally is appreciated.

In anticipation of the great stream of Christmas shoppers, local merchants have stocked their stores with the latest in merchandise and already the advertisements show how well the merchants are prepared to serve the public. As the season nears it is not amiss to advise to do your shopping early. It is less strenuous to shop when you have plenty of time and some of the gifts will be sent to distant places, which might not reach there in time for Christmas unless sent at an early date. To shop early will mean that there will be no rush at the end, when so many other matters come up for immediate attention.

NICER AMERICANS

Americans are changing. At least those who visit England nowadays seem to some Englishmen to be different from former visitors. A Londoner writes to the editor of an American newspaper that "one hears on every side how vastly the Americans have altered. Their increased sympathy, sincerity and simplicity have won for them an immense popularity with the British."

It would require more than the expression of one man's opinion to establish this observation as a proved fact, but the idea is pleasing. Perhaps the British themselves have changed and are just beginning to appreciate us. Perhaps, with more travelers from our shores, the British are meeting a more accurately representative group of Americans.
 Perhaps the World War, the hectic boom years and the depression have changed us all—Englishmen and Yankees—to the extent of lessening sham and giving sympathy and sincerity a chance to show. Whatever the cause, it is fine if British and Americans are really getting to know and like each other better. The world needs increasing understanding and friendship among nations, and the English-speaking nations especially need to get along together.

MORE GOLD FOR AMERICA

Last month $200,000,000 more gold was shipped from Europe to the United States, half of it from London. It joins the $11,000,000-000 of gold already stowed away in the United States Treasury, a hoard that is more than half of the whole world's supply of money-metal. Thus the American dollar is still more strongly bolstered, although it didn't need the new support. But this isn't the real story.

Why is such a steady stream of foreign gold still pouring into our country? To buy American securities. Europe is in the market again, and in a big way. European investors have obviously made up their minds that our government is stable, our money is sound, our industry is restored, and we have great and profitable years ahead. "There is no longer a shadow of doubt," writes an American business editor, "that this $200,000,000-a-month flood of gold sign money coming our way plans a long and perhaps permanent position in American enterprise. Neither is there doubt that it is one of the compelling factors in the shaping of our destiny. Just now it is getting storage room only. Later it will surely find its way into new or expanded enterprises."

FAR-TRAVELED MOTH

A brownish moth with a five-inch spread, known to science as Thysania Zenobia, has just been caught in Maine. What of it? H. B. Peterson, state entomologist, says it is a native of Mexico and other parts of Central and South America. It must have flown "at least 2,200 miles" before it was forced down and captured.

Many birds make longer flights than that, but they're built and prepared for it. Moths, even the big ones, are fragile, their wings easily bruised and broken. They are mostly night creatures and frequently do themselves harm when dazzled by bright lights, flying against lamps indoors or out until they are burned or battered to death. For one to survive such a long flight, doubtless through all sorts of weather, seems most remarkable. Perhaps the entomologist is right and this moth actually came all the way by its own power. Might it not, however, have hooked a ride inside an airplane, or even an auto trailer?

MILK BARS

Of all places in the world to create and popularize "milk bars", Australia is the last country where we'd expect such effeminacy. It has always been known as a he-man's land of hard drinkers. Still, it is a fact of human nature that one extreme breeds another. However you may account for it, the milk bar has supplanted the cocktail bar "down under". These dairy halls have sprung up like mushrooms in all the big cities. Melbourne alone is said to consume 66,000 gallons of milk a day, most of it at the bars.

The cocktail hour still holds sway in America, but we wouldn't be a bit surprised to find it yielding little by little to the milk hour. There's something insidious about milk. Its kick is slower in registering, but lasts longer. And once formed, the habit is hard to break.

TREATMENT OF ARTHRITIS

That rheumatism—arthritis—dates as far back as human history has been demonstrated.

Yet today its cause and its treatment is receiving attention throughout the world, so numerous are its causes and so varied the treatment.

Some months ago the excellent results obtained by Dr. S. C. Wolden-berg in 100 cases of arthritis with the sulphur (colloidal) treatment were recorded in the Medical Record.
 It is gratifying to learn of the results obtained by this method in 832 cases as recorded in the Journal of Bone and Joint Surgery by Dr.
 Thomas Wheeldon, Richmond, Virginia.

Dr. Wheeldon suggests that at least some, if not all forms of arthritis, are due to lack of sulphur in the cartilages of the joint—the hard fibrous tissue that serves as a buffer between the two bones that form the joint. That given a sufficient reserve supply of sulphur in the system to fight off whatever is causing the arthritis, arthritis would not occur. A further point is that whether or not there is a sufficient sulphur reserve depends upon the ability of the small intestine to absorb sulphur from the food (which is being digested) in the small intestine.
 Dr. Wheeldon describes in detail the method used for over four years—colloidal sulphur dispersed in a protein-free aqueous or water medium when injected into the veins, and colloidal sulphur dispersed in olive oil when injected into the huge muscles of the buttocks. There were practically no reactions or upsettements from the treatments.

"Fifty consecutive cases were set aside for exhaustive study. All of these cases had been treated without success by the usual methods—removing infected teeth, tonsils, or gall bladder; correction of deforma-lity; proper mechanical support; local applications; control of diet; and use of the special vaccine thought advisable for the particular case."

Forty injections into the veins and forty into the muscles of the buttocks were given each patient—three into the veins and three into the muscles each week.

Dr. Wheeldon states that among the results noted were: (a) an apparent improvement in the symptoms; (b) a slight rise in the metabolic rate (rate at which body processes work); (c) fall in the blood pressure; (d) a tendency to weight reduction; (e) X-ray examination showed no progress of the disease.

The very favorable results obtained by the use of colloidal sulphur in arthritis by Dr. Wheeldon and his associate Roland J. Main, Ph.D., Richmond, by Dr. S. C. Woldenberg and others, after failure by other methods, should stimulate interest in this method.

Wings For Sally

SYNOPSIS: Attractive, unselfish Sally Warren joins the Warrenton Courier staff as society editor to boost her family's domestic income. She wants to help Ray and pretty, headstrong Tip,
 the 18-year-old Warren twins.
 Terry Maynard, boyish blond aviator, lands a job with South American prospects and asks Sally to marry him. They become secretly engaged. Philip Page, former Warrenton boy whom Sally hasn't seen since childhood, buys the Courier. That night she crosses the street to the old Page garden to sit under the magnolia and dream once more. Suddenly a man appears.

Chapter Eight

A Ghost In The Garden

SALLY was not easily frightened, and she was not a girl to accuse even when she was afraid. She got up hastily and walked as fast as she could toward the gate, not daring to look behind her. She heard the man coming after her, overtaking her, and unable to stand the pursuit any longer, she turned and faced him. She saw at once that he was not a tramp.

"Are you a ghost?" he asked pleasantly.

Sally grew warm with embarrassment. He was making fun of her.
 Whoever he was, "Of course not," she said, feeling ridiculous.

"I'm sorry," said the young man.
 "They told me my mother's ghost sometimes walked in this garden and I thought you might be Alice Page herself."

Alice Page! So this was Philip Page, and he had caught her fairly enough. She looked at him with interest and saw that the moonlight was certainly flattering to him.

"I am Philip Page," he went on.
 "And if you are not a ghost, then who are you?"

"You'll know very soon," said Sally, prompted by a sudden impulse. "Do you mind if I don't tell?"

"I mind very much," said Philip Page. "Where are you going?"

"Home," Sally paused, on her way to the gate. "I'm trespassing."

"Don't go. Stay and show me through the house. I've got the keys and a flashlight, but I daresay you can go through keyholes and see by starlight."

"Then you think I'm a witch," Sally was amused.

"Very likely," said Philip Page solemnly. "Will you come?"

For answer Sally directed her steps toward the front porch, and Philip Page followed and unlocked the front door of the old brick house. The door creaked open and a musty odor came out of the hallway to meet them.

Philip Page flashed on his pocket lamp and its beam was reflected in a tall gilt-framed mirror as they entered.

"Look at that staircase," said Philip Page. "It's just as I remembered sliding down the bannisters."

"Exactly," said Sally. Philip Page turned his lamp full on Sally's face and studied it, to her confusion.

"You're the girl who used to slide with me," he said. "You always blamed me when you fell off."

"Yes," said Sally. "Once you pushed me at the top of the stairs and I fell all the way down. You were a nasty little boy sometimes."

"You fit into the picture!"

They went through the empty rooms, one by one: the library with its naked shelves; the dining room, bare except for the handsome chandelier; the bedrooms, with here and there a picture or a shrouded table or bed.

When they were once more on the flagged porch, Philip Page looked about him and threw back his head in a gesture that Sally was to learn meant that he had formed a resolution.

"I'm going to do the house over by and by," he said. "It would set girl
 I know crazy to fill it with the proper antiques."

Sally was suddenly, unaccountably annoyed. The house belonged to Philip Page, and there was no reason on earth why he should not let a girl in Washington fill it with antiques, yet somehow the idea was distasteful to Sally.

"She'll have to bring her antiques to fill it," said Sally. "This part of the country has been literally robbed of all its fine furniture by people with money."

Philip Page grinned with amusement. "So you don't like the idea of filling my house with antiques," he said. "Neither do I, but perhaps you'll help me buy something really comfortable."

"I am sure you will be able to choose for yourself," said Sally stiffly.
 She was conscious of being laughed at. She could never keep what she was thinking from showing in her face.

"Perhaps I shall," said Philip,
 "especially since you don't seem disposed to be helpful. I mean you mean to live very simply. Just a bed and a few tables and chairs will do for me. I came to Warrenton to work.
 Besides, I'm poor. I've put everything
 I own into my business."

"You'll find that most of the people here work," said Sally, somehow resenting the implication. "That is, everyone who can get a job."

A Washington Day Book.

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt, if he chooses, can laugh at pressure groups, sectional groups, or any other groups presumptuous enough to say: "We did it for you."

He could have been elected without the South's 124 votes. He could have been elected without the South, plus
 New York and Pennsylvania. John Lewis and his estimated million or more voters for Roosevelt. Pre-election forecasts indicated that the labor vote would decide the result in Pen-sylvania, Illinois, Ohio, and possibly New York and Indiana. But Roosevelt did not need the 152 votes of those five states.

No combination of farm states can claim credit for his election. The veterans can not. The unemployed can not.

So the President is free from election-group pressure.

Congress Alone Susceptible

ANOTHER branch of the government, the supreme court, is free of election pressure. The members can stay for life, or until they voluntarily retire.

The only branch which may be subject to pressure groups, then, is congress. And that situation presents a problem.

Imagine the plight of a member of congress, more particularly a member of the house. Re-election is necessary every two years. If he is from an industrial area he can not say the cotton growers elected him. Nor can a cotton district representative be independent and say: like Roosevelt,
 "The whole nation elected him."

From that it appears that the pressure groups, to the vast disgust of many of the electorate, will retain a toe-hold of influence in spite of Roosevelt's huge majority.

President Tough Handle

BUT they will still have a tough time of it. The President, even if they hurdle members of congress into accepting their legislation, it must confront the President, who will not be up in 1938 and can keep them in line as he will be up in 1940 for a precedent-shattering third term.

The Presidential backdrop, many observers feel, should make for orderly legislation.

If the President desires to exert congressional pressure, however, that can be made very heavy, with his tremendous popular endorsement.
 To that pressure, if applied, the congress will have little to say. It can scarcely be doubted that the electorate voted its approval of the Roosevelt way.

TALKS TO PARENTS

A school orchestra is being organized by Miss Marian Shafer, supervisor of music in the Marlborough Central High School. Letters have been sent by Miss Shafer to the parents, stating that the music department of the school is sponsoring instrumental instruction in violin and piano. The department also hopes to introduce instruction in the other instruments of the orchestra. Lessons will be given weekly, the price to be determined by the number of students responding. Instruments are to be furnished by the pupils.
 Miss Shafer will be glad to discuss with the parents the price of new or used instruments or the possibility of renting them for the school year.
 Parents who are interested are asked to communicate with Miss Shafer of the Central School office.

The Home Today

By BROOKE PETERS CHURCH

With the increasing mechanization of life, the ever-growing need for wives to contribute to the family earnings, for schools and community centers to absorb the children, what place is there left for the home? How can it be more than a place to eat and sleep and dress in?

Many people ask themselves this question. The answer is there for all who wish to read. The only people who really believe that the home has outgrown its usefulness and who advocate scrapping it for communal life, are those who for one reason or another do not like homes.

Some of them have never known a real home, and so, like the old lady who saw a giraffe for the first time, declare "There ain't no such thing."

Others have themselves had unfortunate experiences of home, and so become soured on all homes. Many have simply given no thought to the matter, but accepted the clichés of disgruntled reformers.

It is interesting in this connection to read the results of the latest findings on child welfare. They are unanimous in their decision that the home was never of greater importance than in this period of change, with its resultant stress and strain on the children.

Of course the home is changing.
 When it refuses to change and adjust itself in some degree to the world about it, then it breaks. But in its modern form it acts as a secure starting point for the children, a background for living, and a cement to tie together the confusing elements of present-day life. It should be a stabilizing center, where children can go for peace, comfort, explanations, assurance, where they can bring their friends, try out their theories, and their fads; where they keep their treasures and practice their hobbies.
 Even with both parents at work, a home may still be a home if the parents have created it in the atmosphere of love and security.

Mrs. Louise M. Beebe, Miss Clara
 Markey and Miss Hazel Bliss left during the week for Florida, where they will spend the winter.

Norwegians Resign Their Nobel Posts

Oslo, Norway, Nov. 17 (UP)—Foreign Minister Halvdan Koht and Dr. Johan L. Mowinckel, former Norwegian premier, have resigned from the Nobel committee which was reliably reported today to have selected Carl von Ossietzky, renowned pacifist, for the 1936 Nobel Peace Prize.

(The German government announced in Berlin today that von Ossietzky had been released from custody in a hospital where he was taken for treatment after being consigned in a concentration camp since February, 1933.)

Both Dr. Koht and Dr. Mowinckel declared their resignations were not to be interpreted as protests against the reported prize winner.

Dr. Koht, who resigned last week, said he wanted to avoid any opportunity for Germany to hold the Norwegian government responsible in any way for an award to von Ossietzky.

Dr. Mowinckel resigned yesterday and explained that he, as leader of the Liberal party, found it impossible to remain on the Nobel committee in the face of Dr. Koht's stand.

Martin Tranmel, editor of the Labor newspaper Arbeiderbladet, was named to succeed the former premier.

Whelan Is Held For Grand Jury Action

Michael J. Whelan, 27, of 123 North Front street, who has been employed as a handy man at Candyland on Wall street, was arrested Monday afternoon by Officer Wesley Cramer, who had been making an investigation of the robbery of the cash registers in Candyland on Saturday when the registers were broken open and $10.90 in cash stolen.

Whelan has been employed at Candyland for about six months. According to the police department Whelan when brought to police headquarters Monday afternoon confessed and signed his confession which was made a part of the information lodged against him when he was arraigned before Judge Culion in police court this morning.

Whelan when informed of his rights said he desired to waive examination and he was held to await the action of the grand jury. Bail was fixed at $500.

Entrance to Candyland was obtained through a cellar entrance on Fair street, according to the police. Officer Cramer had devoted considerable time to investigating the burglary, and what he unearthed led to the arrest of Whelan, who is charged with burglary in the third degree.

CADILLAC MOTOR

$995

If you want to escape from commonplace performance, look at LaSalle! LaSalle for 1937 is powered with a Cadillac-built V-8 engine—stepped up to 125 horsepower—with a new high ratio of power to weight.

It has the smoothness, the quietness, and the powerful, responsive acceleration that could only come from Cadillac, where the first

V-8 engine was built. And because of the long life and low upkeep cost traditional in Cadillac-built engines, the new V-8 LaSalle is remarkably economical.

Visit your Cadillac-LaSalle dealer today, without fail. Look at LaSalle, then drive it.

Do just these two things and your next car will certainly be a V-8 LaSalle!

Some people may wear gold crowns, but they are on their teeth and not on their heads.

Mother (to son wandering around the room)—What are you looking for?

Son—Nothing.

Mother—You'll find it in the box where the candy was.

Some men become loafers because they are too light for heavy work and too heavy for light work.

Man—So you desire to become my son-in-law?

Youth—No, I don't. But if I marry your daughter, sir, I don't see very well how I can get out of it.

It is safer to throw stones at random than idle words.

Judith—The only men I kiss are my brothers.

Charles—What lodge do you belong to?

Wouldn't it be great if these radio stations could broadcast coal this winter?

Young Doctor—I'm afraid I made a mistake in filling in a death certificate today.

Old Doctor—How was that?

Young Doctor—I absent-mindedly signed my name in the space left for "cause of death."

"Some animals," says Dr. William T. Hornaday, "have more intelligence than some men." Certainly. You never heard of an animal paying $20 to see a prize fight.

Customer—Would you take my last cent for a shave?

Barber—Sure.

Customer (getting out of chair and handing barber a penny)—Here's my last cent.

The reason there seems so many problems too big to be solved is because there are too many people too small.

Thoughtful Friend—My good man, you had better take the street car home.

Illuminated One—Sh! no ushe. Wife wouldn't let me keep it in the house.

A mosquito is a great screen actor, and he always gets by.

Bumptious Young Man—I'm a thought reader. I can tell exactly what a person is thinking.

Elderly Man—In that case, I beg your pardon.

Young Wife (reading her new movie scenario)—Two burglars here enter the living room and the clock strikes one.

Bored Husband—Which one?

Junior—Say, Pop, how soon will I be old enough to do just as I please?

Father—I don't know, son; nobody has ever lived that long yet.

No currency is elastic enough to stretch from earning capacity to desire.

Johnny—What does transatlantic mean?

Teacher—Across the Atlantic. Trans means across, hence the meaning across the Atlantic.

Johnny—Then my daddy is trans-parent.

STONE RIDGE

Stone Ridge, Nov. 16.—The members of the Women's Home Missionary Society of the M. E. Church heard a most interesting talk by Mrs. Rose, district secretary of the W. H. M. S., at the parsonage on Saturday afternoon. The program was followed by a social hour and appetizing refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Roscoe S. Strivings.

Miss Loretta Osterhout of Kingston was a guest on Friday of the Misses Helen and Della Clark.

Hollister Sturges, who spends the greater part of his time during the winter months at Albany and New York, spent a few days last week at his home in this place.

Lawrence Larsen and brother, Oscar Larsen, enjoyed a day's sport hunting deer in the Catskills on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arne Peters and family moved to Middletown on the farm of his father on Saturday. Mr. Peters had been employed on the Loggett estate for several years.

The Mothers' Club of school district No. 5, will meet at the school house on Friday, November 20, at 2:30 p. m. and have as their guest speaker Miss Mary Ellen Rich, associate head of the Rural Educational Department of the New Paltz Normal School. Special musical numbers will be given by Mrs. Harold Hoffmann.

The Mothers' Club will welcome the attendance of all who are interested in the work of the school and need their cooperation.

The choir of the M. E. Church will rehearse at the church on Friday evening at 8 p. m.

The junior choir will meet at the parsonage on Saturday at 1 p. m. A full attendance is requested as special Thanksgiving pieces will be practiced.

Albert Sherman, who has been unable to work for two weeks due to an infection in his hand, has returned to his employment on the Brown farm at Marbletown.

Mrs. Kinkade of Kingston is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Archibald Lawrence, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Berton Delemater, who have resided for some time with Mr. Delemater's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Delemater, have taken rooms in the house of Harry Snyder, recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Lester Stokes. Granville Lockwood moved the furniture.

Mrs. Nellie Elston found a carrier pigeon dead on her property near her home last week.

Mrs. Mae Krom of Hurley was a guest on Thursday of Mrs. De Forest Bishop.

Miss Marilla Bloom of Kingston was entertained last week at the home of the Misses Della and Helen Clark.

The neighbors of Mrs. Anna Nilsson gave her a birthday surprise party at her home on Saturday afternoon. The guests were Mrs. Oswald Jacobsen, Mrs. Lawrence Larsen and children, Lillian and Jean, Miss Carl Nilsson, Mrs. Oscar Larsen and Mrs. Ralph Sahler. After enjoying a pleasant afternoon delicious refreshments were served and the neighbors departed wishing Mrs. Nilsson many happy birthdays.

The Rev. and Mrs. Harold Hoffman were welcomed back to their pastorate at the Dutch Reformed Church after a two weeks' vacation with their parents and friends at Kalamazoo and other places in Michigan.

Miss Zella Sahler spent the weekend with Mrs. Beattie Stauderman at Hurley and on Saturday they were accompanied by Mrs. Krom and Miss Ethel Wolsey of Kingston and enjoyed a trip to Newburgh.

The schoolmates of Eva, Ellean and Sonny Peters gave them a farewell party at school on Friday and regretted very much that they were to move away.

The many friends of Roy Ransom regret to hear that he has been ill at his home for several days with rheumatism and hope he may be out soon.

Sunday guests at the M. E. parsonage were Mr. and Mrs. Gertrude Schoonmaker and children, Mary Lou and Richard, of New Hurley, and Mrs. Charles Jenkins.

Miss Charlotte Becker, who teaches at Yorktown Heights, was a week-end guest at Edgewater Camp.

The Lomontville unit of the Home Bureau met on Thursday at the home of Mrs. John Van Waeren and passed a quiet.

The Stone Ridge Unit of the Home Bureau will meet on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ross K. Osterhout. The lesson will be a continuation of the topic, "How to Know Each Other," given by Mrs. Clark of Milton. This topic has been presented in such an interesting manner at the previous meetings that a large number is expected to be present.

Robert East returned from his hunting trip with a fine cold as a result of an icy awl for his life when the boat on which he was transporting provisions sank.

Lansing Hunt and friend, Miss Charlotte Becker, called on friends in this place on Saturday evening.

FLASHES OF LIFE SKETCHED IN BRIEF

By Associated Press

Double Trouble

Munhall, Pa.—The Munhall Police Department recently bemoaned the fact its jail was infested with ants.

Then a new trouble arose—the problem of disposing of letters of advice from all parts of the nation, brought on by an item in "Flashes of Life."

Now the officers have found it wasn't ants. The jail trouble was termites—"and we know what to do about them, please don't write any more," they pleaded publicly.

Cold Aftermath

Baldwin, N. Y.—George Craig, Baldwin High football coach, paid a bill to his tailor with a smile.

The charge was for revamping his "lucky football suit." After his alert eleven licked Hempstead, the boys celebrated by shoving the coach, fully dressed, under a cold shower. Craig avowed that if his team beats Mexico Poly Saturday, he will wear an overcoat for the expected bath.

Moment Supreme

Norman, Okla.—Old Nosey, an aging polo pony, was wheezing along in the last chukker of possibly his last game for the University of Oklahoma, against Missouri. The score was tied, 5-5. It was about over, and his rider's last shot went wild.

Heading straight to the ball, Old Nosey kicked it neatly between the goal posts for the winning score.

FORD

advances into 1937 with the LOWEST PRICE IN YEARS and new operating economy

THE ADDITION of a new 60-horsepower engine to the Ford line for 1937 brings you a new, low price and gives you a choice of two V-type 8-cylinder engines. 85 horsepower for maximum performance. 60 horsepower for maximum economy.

In basic design, the new 60-horsepower V-8 engine is a replica of its famous older brother—the V-8 "85." But its reduced size and weight make possible a lighter car, with lower operating costs, and the lowest Ford price in years.

The 60-horsepower engine was originally developed for use in England and France, where fuel costs are high and fuel economy is vitally important. It has been proven there for two years with brilliant success. Now, brought to America, it creates an entirely new standard of modern motoring economy!

The "60" engine is built in exactly the same body size and wheelbase, to the same advanced design, with the same comfort and convenience as the "85." It has all the distinctive Ford features for 1937. And it delivers V-8 smoothness and quietness at speeds up to 70 miles an hour.

Two engine sizes—but only one car and one purpose—to give you more miles and more satisfaction for your money in 1937. We invite you to see this very modern car at the showrooms of the nearest Ford dealer.

FORD FEATURES FOR 1937

APPEARANCE—Distinctive modern design. Headlamps streamlined into fender aprons. Modern slat-type hood. Larger luggage space. Interiors entirely new. Slanting V-type windshield open in all closed cars.

BRAKES—The Easy-Action Safety Brakes in the new Ford give you "the safety of steel from pedal to wheel." Cable and control types. Self-correcting. About one-third less pedal pressure is required to stop the car.

BODY—All steel. Top, sides, floor and frame welded into a single steel unit of great protective strength. Safety Glass throughout at no extra charge.

COMFORT AND QUIET—A big, roomy car with extra space in the body, where you want it—not taken up by the engine under the hood. Comfort of the Ford Center-Pole Ride is increased by smoother spring-ride with new pressure lubrication. New methods of mounting body and engine make this a quieter car.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By CLAUDE E. JACQUES

New York, Nov. 17 (AP)—Stocks swept upward fractions to 2 or more points in today's market as an avalanche of increased dividends and other favorable business news stimulated a sharp buying revival.

The ticker tape was almost continually behind floor dealings in the morning with large blocks of the favorites changing hands at advancing prices. The activity dwindled later, however, and a little selling was in evidence near the final hour.

Boardroom sentiment was lifted by a brisk rally in the recently backward rails. The aircrafts, including Douglas, Boeing and United were given a late whirl.

Transfers were around 3,000,000 shares.

Fears of liquidation from abroad appeared to have about evaporated as Secretary Morgenthau indicated nothing would be done to curb foreign purchases until the matter is thoroughly investigated. In addition he stressed the point the treasury has ample means to protect the dollar against any sudden shift of international funds.

Besides the rails, merchandising, amusement, copper, rubber, farm implement and equipment shares were in the forward thrust.

Outstanding on the upturn were Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, Atlantic Coast Line, Louisville & Nashville, Delaware & Hudson, Southern Railway Preferred, Montgomery Ward, Macy, Woolworth, Spiegel-May-Stern, Safeway Stores, Paramount, R-K-O, Loews, General Theatres Equipment, Americana, Kenecott, American Smelting, American Locomotive, Baldwin, Valley Coal, Westinghouse, Continental Oil, Atlantic Refining, North American and Electric Power & Light.

Winant Resumes Social Security Job

Washington, Nov. 17 (AP).—John G. Winant resumed his position at the helm of the social security program today as the task of enrolling future old age pensioners went forward.

Winant, former Republican governor of New Hampshire, resigned as chairman of the social security board during the presidential campaign, declaring he wanted to be free to answer attacks on the program.

His return to the post, which he plans to hold only temporarily, followed a conference last Saturday with President Roosevelt. Last night the White House made public a presidential letter to Winant saying:

"I appreciate the reasons why you are reluctant to resume your work with the social security board.

"But I feel it essential that you help complete the immediate job of organization which you and your associates have had so well under way.

"Since on Saturday you agreed that, if I felt it imperative, you would come back temporarily to complete that job, I am now asking you to do it—to come back for a few weeks, say until the first of the year, for that purpose.

"While I am away (on a trip to South America) will you be thinking about the problems of integrating the social security board's activities with those of the other government agencies?"

The task of enrollment started yesterday when postmen delivered blanks to employers, who must turn them in by November 21, telling the number of their employees and the nature of their business.

On November 24, an estimated 26,000,000 employees will begin receiving applications blanks and when these are turned in, the government will begin setting up social security accounts and wage records.

Field offices of the security board were swamped yesterday with requests for information. Officials advised the public to wait receipt of their forms through regular channels.

Woodstock	6000.00	1200.00	5610.43	350.00

The item in column one is for the Highway Fund and is levied on the town exclusive of the property in villages. Items in column two are for bridges, highway, and miscellaneous and levied on the entire town including the villages. Item three is for machinery and is levied on the entire town including villages. Item four is the miscellaneous fund and is levied on the town including the villages.

Over under the rule.

Supervisor Wilkin moved that there be assessed and levied on the town of Plattekill the sum of $4,315 to pay certificate of indebtedness and interest to pay Ulster Co-operative Fire Insurance Company for insurance.

Over under the rule.

Supervisor Andrews of Shandaken moved that there be assessed on that town the following sums:

For certificates of indebtedness for machinery the sum of $6,709.80.

American Legion Post of Shandaken the sum of $150.

For Welfare Work the sum of $2,500.

To reimburse the county treasurer for Work Relief the sum of $955.45.

To pay two certificates of indebtedness issued for Welfare and Work Relief purposes the sum of $8,618.82.

Over under the rule.

Movers Refund

Supervisor Cashdollar of Woodstock moved that there be refunded to Atlantic Municipal Corporation the sum of $467.50, amount paid for a parcel of land in Woodstock, known as the Woodstock Lodge property, and containing about a half acre of land which was bid in by the county at the 1935 tax sale but which went on the last tax sale and was bid in by the corporation. The county will refund the money and have the parcel conveyed to the county as it should not have been on the tax sale.

Adopted.

The county was authorized to accept from the Schoenag Hotel and Land Corporation the sum of $100 as settlement of a mortgage held by the county on lands of Samuel Dill and others in the town of Saugerties which the county holds a mortgage on by reason of the provisions of the Old Age Relief law.

The county was also authorized to release a parcel of land in Walker Valley to Hans Rose and others for the sum of $345. This was done since there was a purchaser who desired to buy the parcel upon which the county holds a mortgage under provisions of the Old Age Relief law. The resolution of Supervisor Murray was adopted.

The following sums are the various town's share of fighting forest fires under provisions of the Conservation Law and must be paid by the towns. The supervisor may either pay from funds on hand or may raise the amount by tax levy.

On the call the supervisor of the town indicated whether it would be paid out of funds on hand or levied as follows:

Denning $18.22. Raise.

Esopus $35.45. Raise.

Gardiner $24.60. Raise.

Hurley $36.56. Pay.

Lloyd $59.73. Raise.

Marbletown $15.27. Raise.

Marlborough $26.00. Raise.

New Paltz $35.78. Pay.

Oliver $1.37. Pay.

Plattekill $153.87. Raise.

Rochester $1512.09. Raise.

Saugerties $44.90. Raise.

Shandaken $297.72. Raise.

Shawangunk $297.72. Raise.

Ulster $2.15. Raise.

Wawarsing $421.45. Raise.

Woodstock $30.50. Pay.

Supervisor Rifenbary prior to adjourning announced that Clerk Fred Stang and Mrs. Stang were open to congratulations over the arrival Sunday of a son, Paul Frederick Stang, and be moved that the board extend congratulations and also thank Mr. Stang for cigars which were passed around to the board members. The vote was unanimous.

Mr. Stang announced that the Committee on Equalization would meet at 2 on Tuesday afternoon.

The board then adjourned until 7:30 Tuesday evening.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the many acts of kindness which were shown us by our friends and neighbors, also by the Mackell Funeral Home and the A. N. Conner Funeral Home, in the recent death of John Amell.

Mordelia Merry-Makers At St. James Church November 19

The Mordelia Merry-Makers will entertain here on Thursday evening, November 19, at 8:15, as the second number in the series of Fall Festival entertainments in St. James M. E. Church. This entertainment will feature two piano-accordions that know their masters' touch. Pietro Mordelia, New England's celebrated accordion virtuoso, brings his daughter, Flora, "the girl with the golden voice," to exchange musical pleasures with him across two lifting, thrilling piano-accordions.

Pietro first learned to play his favorite instrument experimenting with those made by his father in Boston, the first accordion maker in this country. To that he later added a splendid professional training with

Heated Fight Looms Over Lewis Ouster at Labor Convention

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 17 (AP).—Presaging a heated fight on the floor, eight resolutions condemning suspension of John L. Lewis' 10 rebel unions were introduced today at the American Federation of Labor convention.

They conflicted with one resolution, introduced by John P. Frey, president of the metal trades department, calling for expulsion of the rebels.

Meanwhile the federation's high command had all but finally decided to propose convention approval of the suspensions and to continue efforts to bring Lewis and his industrial unions allies back into the federation.

Frey not only proposed expulsion for "insurrections but introduced a second resolution calling for an A. F. of L. boycott on all goods produced by the rebels. His resolution included in the rebel group the Typographical Union and the United Hatters, Cap and Millinery Workers.

These unions were not suspended but an officer of each belongs to Lewis' committee for industrial organization.

The resolutions condemning suspension came from the California State Federation of Labor, the Wisconsin Federation, the Pullman Porters, the Mercer county, W. Va., Central Labor Body, the Reading, Pa., Central Body and the Warehouse Employees of Cleveland.

The Wisconsin federation, in its resolution, also proposed a peace move calling for adoption of Lewis' plan for bringing all steel and rubber workers into industrial unions and discarding of the Lewis plan for other mass production industries.

Several others proposed unqualified A. F. of L. cooperation with Lewis.

Others of the 103 resolutions introduced today called for establishment of an independent labor party, freeing Tom Mooney and Angelo Herndon, A. F. of L. educational work against Fascism and condemnation of Italy's seizure of Ethiopia, and legislation for government manufacture of all munitions.

Still others called for a boycott on canned beer until the cans are made by union labor, a negro workers' endorsement of the Black-Concern 30-hour work bill, adoption of the child labor amendment to the federal Constitution and limits on central bodies' rights to place employers with union contracts on unfair lists.

Confessed Slayer Says Self-Defense

Yonkers, N. Y., Nov. 17 (AP).—Arthur Penzo, 33, Yonkers felon and self-confessed slayer of another ex-convict, Andrew Teborsky, to whose body, buried in West Yonkers, he led police yesterday, stuck to a self-defense story under a grilling which lasted until 1 a. m. today.

Penzo was brought from Auburn prison at his own request to confess the crime. The slaying took place in Teborsky's car last Sept. 17 en route to Mount Vernon as the two planned a series of robberies. Penzo told Police Chief Edward J. Quirk.

An examination of the exhumed remains by Medical Examiner Amos O. Squire showed, however, that Teborsky was shot in the back of the head, the bullet penetrating the right eye. And the grave, which Penzo says he dug singlehanded the night following the slaying was found to be at some points seven feet deep and six feet wide, a fact which indicates to police it could not have been dug by one man in a single night.

Penzo was kept under heavy guard today and Westchester authorities sought a Supreme Court order to hold him at county jail. Meanwhile they planned to continue questioning him and his wife, the former Julia Olesnick of Yonkers, who Penzo admits was with him earlier the night of the murder.

the navy department and added Edison had been in touch with naval affairs during the war.

Edison's father was chairman of the naval consulting board during the war. The new appointee has been serving as New Jersey state director of the national emergency council.

Nancy Has No Intention.

New York, Nov. 17 (AP).—Nancy Carroll, the movie actress, has no intention of marrying Tommy Manville—in fact, she said today, she has no marriage plans at all. Returning from Europe on the Queen Mary, Miss Carroll was asked about the asbestos heir's announcement some time ago that she would be his next wife. "Somebody told me about that," she said. "I really think Tommy might have asked me about it first. There's nothing to it, of course."

Roosevelt, Eyes On World Peace

and naval reception for President Roosevelt.

One of the important demonstrations for the Chief Executive of the United States, who sails tomorrow to attend the opening of the Inter-American Peace Conference, will be a military review either December 1 or December 2.

Military conscripts, who have completed their year of training, will be kept at their posts near Buenos Aires in preparation for the parade.

The Argentine battleships Rivadavia and Moreno and the cruiser Almirante Brown, accompanied by a squadron of torpedo boats, will meet the Presidential Cruiser Indianapolis off Montevideo.

From there the Argentine naval fleet will convey the United States cruiser to Buenos Aires or down the Atlantic coast to Mar Del Plata. If the President lands at Mar Del Plata, Argentina's fashionable resort 220 miles south of Buenos Aires, he will be brought to the conference city by special train.

Syme Will Take Bleakley's Post

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 17 (AP).—Governor Lehman will appoint Sydney A. Syme of Bronxville, an attorney in Westchester county for the past 35 years, to succeed William F. Bleakley, resigned, as justice of the Supreme court for the Ninth Judicial District.

Acting Governor M. William Bray made the announcement last night at the request of the governor, who is vacationing in California. The appointment is expected upon Lehman's return within the next ten days.

Bleakley resigned from the bench after 19 years' service when he accepted the Republican nomination for governor in late September. He was defeated in the general election, and returned to private law practice.

MARKETS FOR FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

New York, Nov. 17 (AP).—(State Dept. of Agr. & Mkts.)—Upstate supplies of vegetables and fruits were moderate today. Engineer Ferguson Is Badly Burned

he told a reporter, explaining that a backdraft sometimes is caused when the door to the firebox is opened and the wind blows the smoke back down the smokestack.

"Come So Quickly"

"I don't know what it was," Ferguson added. "It came so quickly and I had plenty to do. It will take a long time to investigate and determine just what caused it."

Other members of the family were equally reticent in discussing the blast. Mrs. Ferguson said her husband had "turned over" in a previous wreck but declined to say when it was or give details.

"Something blew out. I don't know what it was," the 61-year-old engineer said in describing the blast.

None of the passengers were aware of the accident and the train proceeded within a short time with an emergency engine and crew.

Ferguson's meagre version of the blast was quoted by his wife at their home in 58 John street, Rensselaer. He was taken there immediately after being treated at the Hudson station by a physician.

"He is badly burned about the head and face," she said, "and is unable to talk at all. All I could get out of him was that something blew out."

Peterson in Poughkeepsie

Peterson, taken to a Poughkeepsie hospital after emergency treatment here could not be reached for a description of the blast. Besides head and neck burns, he also suffered concussion.

Joseph D. Carikoff, trainmaster of the Hudson division of the New York Central, said at Poughkeepsie that the cause of the blast was unknown. The engine was taken to the Hudson roundhouse for examination.

He said the explosion that apparently occurred in the fire box hurled both men out of the cab. Flames blew out of the box and enveloped the cab immediately.

The train, moving slowly through the station yard, proceeded without incident for several hundred yards before Peterson reached the third tie.

Roll Call Night At Rondout Lodge

Impressive ceremonies marked Roll Call Night on Monday evening at Rondout Lodge, No. 243, F. & A. M., and at the close of the ceremonies a social hour was enjoyed, refreshments served and Henry Millonig, Jr., master of the lodge, showed five reels of movies showing Boulder Dam under construction. The next important event will be District Deputy Mason on December 7, when the district deputy of the Green-Ulster Masonic District will pay his official visit to the lodge.

Several of the past masters of the lodge were introduced during the roll call as well as Dr. Samuel Stern and P. H. Carey, past grand lodge officers. Two members who have a Masonic life of 40 years were introduced. They were Alfred W. Tongue and Carl G. Fisher.

There were three Master Masons present who had been Masons for over half a century. Louis B. Basten and Harry S. Myer, who have been Masons for 54 years, and John R. Halliday of Cortland Lodge, a Master Mason for 40 years. The three veterans made brief addresses and were heartily applauded.

Then followed the roll call of the membership of the lodge which numbers over 500 active members. Many were present and responded to their names when called.

Henry Millonig, Jr., master of the lodge, congratulated the lodge on the large number present, and said he believed that Roll Call Night should be made an annual event. He also called attention to the communication to be held December 7 when the district deputy will pay his official visit. There will be no degree work that evening, but following the reception to the district deputy a social hour will be enjoyed, refreshments served, and a program of entertainment given.

At the close of the lodge last evening the refreshment committee served sandwiches and coffee, and an interesting series of movies in five reels showing the construction of Boulder Dam on the Colorado river were shown. The pictures were exceptionally interesting and entertaining.

Treasury Receipts.

Washington, Nov. 17 (AP).—The treasury today forecast a continuing surplus, $1,045,408.78, balance, $1,566,381,819.43; customs receipts for the month, $33,954,873.28. Receipts for the fiscal year since July 1, $1,524,401,420.46; expenditures, $2,614,211,682.52, including $1,422,894,992.83 of emergency expenditures; excess of expenditures, $1,089,810,262.06; gross debt, $33,789,090.14, a decrease of $1,028,006.00 under the previous day; 10th annuity, $11,114,654,413.83.

50 Persons Die In French Blast

Saint Chamas, France, Nov. 17 (AP).—The death toll in Powder Hill blasts which wrecked one of France's largest explosive manufacturing plants was set officially today at 52 persons.

Many of the 200 injured employees of the government plant were in critical condition.

Soldiers and gendarmes who dug through the twisted ruins expressed fear the wreckage hid more bodies. Some of the factory's 500 workers still were unaccounted for.

Building No. 104, one of a long line of low powder mills, was destroyed in a first terrific blast at dusk yesterday.

The powerful explosion shook the entire town and could be heard for 10 miles through the countryside. More than a mile away a wall was killed by a stone, shot bullet-like from the blast.

Burning splinters of the wrecked building were showered on an adjacent mill and ignited highly explosive, mud-like ingredients which were being mixed to make tolite.

Before the firemen had a chance to fight the chemical-fed blaze, a second terrific explosion lifted the building from its foundations.

Officials said the cause of the first explosion was not determined but that they found no evidence of sabotage.

The victims included Pierre La Roque, manager of the factory, and several powder experts who fought the fire after the first explosion.

Redeemers Put End to Winning Stride of Port Ewen Quintet

The 14-game winning streak of the Port Ewen five came to an end Monday night at the Y. M. C. A. before a capacity house, when a strong Redeemer team turned back the defending champions by a 18-16 score. Up to last night the Port Ewen boys had clicked for 14 consecutive Church League victories in the past two seasons. The Clinton Avenue Aces defeated the First Dutch in the opener and the Comforter Aces nosed out the Comforter Missions in the other game on the schedule.

43 Survive First Basketball Cut

Forty-three candidates, including present squad members, survived the first selection barrier imposed by Coach Kias on prospective Kingston High cagers. The initial pruning act followed the first week of pre-game practice and was made yesterday afternoon. Under the supervision of Assistant Coach Dick Whiston, the applicants showed their wares and those whose ability merited them further consideration, engaged in the second week of practice. The present make-up of the squad is not too bulky and at least two more slices will be made.

The following players, including last year's boosters, hurdled the first elimination: Paul Arguevick, Dave Brooks, Art Crist, Capt. Ed Bahl, Sonny Banks, G. Bremner, Charlie Bock, Al Bruce, Hal Canfield, Milt Dublin, Ray Dunbar, J. Durne, A. Deyo, D. Dougherty, L. Evers, J. Finerty, G. Fatum, Phil Fertil, H. Flowers, Lefty Joe Garland, W. Grothoff, L. Ambers-McLarnin Fight Friday Night

Kingston High School Cagers Have 17 Games on Their Schedule

Kingston High School's court-cavorters will engage in a 17 game schedule, involving both DUSO league contests and non-circuit tilts. The release of the most strenuous program in recent years was delayed by prolonged negotiations with the Poughkeepsie authorities as to listing of dates. Twelve DUSO league cage combats are on tap and five traditional independent frays have also been arranged for the 1936-37 season. The defending league champs will embark on a hazardous roster of games by opening with Saugerties there on December 18.

The Cahillmen return to the Colonial City for the first home contest of the year on December 23 and the Alumni band together for their annual affair on December 29. The Kiasmen then launch the league campaign against Newburgh at the Auditorium on January 8 and the season gets underway in earnest from that point on.

Graduation has scattered the sterling '35-'36 quintet and only Captain Eddie Bahl, last year's alternate guard, and the sharp-shooting Charles Bock and Tommy Maines, lithe center, will whirl down the floor on the first play of the coming season. Lou Glenn, aggressive forward and long shot artist, Newt Belchert, team player, and Eddie Bock, sensational leader, will no longer dart about the floor in the Maroon regalia. Bill Byrne, capable reserve, has also doffed the local uniform, while Al Bruce, alternate center and forward, will not be available until the next semester. Last year's array of court talent was a top-notch scholastic unit, gifted with experience, poise, scoring ability and defensive prowess and compiled a brilliant record of achieving 11 victories in 13 tussles. The DUSO champions also annexed unofficial honors as the top-ranking quintet in the Hudson Valley and their fame spread far and wide as indicated by:

the numerous offers to fulfill engagements from such points as the renowned Union Hill High of Union City, N. J.

Tommy Maines, Charlie Bock and Captain Bahl will be the mainstays of the current edition and a host of capable reserves and jayvee members will compete for the two remaining positions. Slott Rowland, Bob Delano, George Ritenbary and Phil Fertil will battle it out for places on the starting five. A flock of promising material will make the jump from the second-team to the reserve squad to supply adequate reserve material.

The complete Kingston High School 1936-37 basketball schedule follows:

Home Games.

December 23—Saugerties vs. Kingston.

December 29—Alumni vs. Kingston.

January 8—Newburgh vs. Kingston, DUSO.

January 22—Middletown vs. Kingston, DUSO.

Catskill Golfer Is Among Pace Setters In PGA Tournament

Among the dark horses who galloped down the stretch today in the final qualifying round of the professional golfers championship with a flock of favorites trailing in their dust was Alex Gerlak of Catskill.

Gerlak, says the Associated Press, was one of a trio of virtual unknowns among the half dozen pace setters as the pros shot their second 18 holes of qualifying play, the other two being Clarence Yockey of Kansas City and Leo Walper of Bethesda, Md.

The Catskill youngster, a shy fellow of 28 years, who combines a greens-keeping job with his professional tasks, turned in the biggest surprise of the first day by shooting a sub-par 71.

Yockey, a slim chap playing in his first PGA tournament, and Walper, who operates a driving range on the outskirts of Washington, D. C., checked in with 73's, to join the National Open Champion, Tony Manero, and Henry Pleard.

Pay Coleman of Culver City, Calif., equalled the course record and took first honors with his four-under-par 68.

It looked like a pair of 78's might win positions among the 63 players entitled to join defending champion Johnny Revolta in match play Wednesday.

Plainfield, N. J.—Tony Siano, 178, New York, threw Ivan Podubny, 198, Russia.

Omaha, Neb.—Abi Kashbey, 220, Bayonne, N. J., defeated Chief Little Beaver, 225, Asherville, N. C., two falls out of three.

The Weather

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1936
Sun rises, 7:00; sets, 4:30.
Weather, cloudy.

The Temperature

The lowest temperature registered by The Freeman thermometer last night was 23 degrees. The highest point reached up until noon today was 36 degrees.

Weather Forecast

New York, Nov. 17 (AP)—Forecast for New York city and vicinity—Mostly cloudy tonight and Wednesday. Warmer tonight, colder Wednesday night. Fresh westerly winds. Probably minimum temperature tonight 25 degrees.

Eastern New York
—Mostly cloudy tonight and Wednesday. Probably light rain in north and central portions changing to snow flurries Wednesday, warmer in east and south portions tonight. Colder Wednesday, much colder Wednesday night.

COLDER

Freezing Weather Still Grips City

Freezing weather still grips the city and the lowest temperature recorded by the official thermometer of the city was 20 degrees above zero at 6 o'clock this morning. At midnight a temperature of 24 degrees was recorded. Monday a cold, blustery wind blew all day, making it seem much colder than it really was. The biting wind continued throughout the evening.

BRINGS ACTION SEEKING TO DISSOLVE MARRIAGE

Eyleen Struble of Kingston, through her guardian, Ethel Kuerstine, has brought an action against her husband, Walter F. Struble, for a dissolution of her marriage, which took place on October 1, 1932, at the City of Kingston. Peter Harp appears for the plaintiff.

The action brought in Supreme Court before Justice Harry E. Schrick was tried some time ago and was brought on the grounds that the Justice of the Peace who performed the service was not qualified. The decree recites that the ceremony was performed by Justice of the Peace John J. Duffy of the town of Rosendale at the city of Kingston and that the justice lacked authority to perform a service where one of the contracting parties was under 18 years of age. The action was also brought on the grounds that since the plaintiff has been 18 years of age she has never resided with her husband.

Years and years ago people got married for keeps.

safe in South Africa, where he will spend the winter months with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Abram Kelder and two daughters, Marguerite and Coral, of Rosendale were pleasant guests Armistice Day of the latter sister, Mrs. Melinda Gorrilline and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Quick and Henry S. Dewitt were shopping in Kingston Saturday morning.

Monoxide Evils Are Widespread

Baltimore, Nov. 17 (AP)—Discovery of many disastrous effects from inhaling carbon monoxide, the deadly gas from automobile exhaust and gas burners, which have been previously overlooked was reported today to the Southern Medical Association.

Dr. Harvey G. Beck of the University of Maryland School of Medicine declared that in addition to the deaths which occur by the thousands annually from high concentrations of carbon monoxide, he had found that it also causes a wide variety of ailments due to continuous exposure to small concentrations.

These effects, he explained, are not found in the average person in ordinary pursuits but have been located in garage mechanics, bus drivers and conductors, and others who are in daily contact with carbon monoxide in large amounts.

Our Growing Population

The following births have been reported to the Board of Health:
